

Filling and Capping Machine

Sequential machine control with multiple stations working independently.

Bottles are transferred through filling & capping stations to the robot station, where they are picked up and moved to end

